BRUCE D. REHWOLDT
... In Navy Training

Bruce Rehwoldt Undergoing Navy Training Course

Undergoing intensive training at the San Francisco Naval Training Station to prepare for an assignment as assistant postal officer in a service squadron is Navy Ensign Bruce D. Rehwoldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rehwoldt, of 1601 El Prado. Ensign Rehwoldt, who was graduated from Santa Barbara College in 1951, has been teaching in the Hope Elementary School there until last Christmas, when he entered the Navy. He received his commission last month.

While attending Montebello High School, Rehwoldt began working part time in the post office there and later worked two summers and during holidays at the Torrance Post Office, receiving his background for service duties.

Following completion of the training he is now undergoing in San Francisco, he will probably be assigned to a ship traveling the Far Eastern waters. The 24-year-old Naval officer was an active athlete in college and took a major role in the college's golf and tennis teams. He also played basketball at Whittier College before entering Santa Barbara.
